WOUNDED WARRIOR
SEAN KARPf

All I ever knew was being in the military, serving our country, having this great sense of pride, and going from that to feeling like everything was just ripped out was very hard. What Wounded Warrior Project has done for me and through me helped me realize that my purpose wasn't to be a soldier, even though I loved it, my purpose is to help now. It's to help the ones that are coming back or have been back for a while, that have just dealt with so many struggles and so much of the same obstacles that I was dealing with for so long and trying to be that light in their lives to let them know that where you are is exactly where I was at. Thank you to all the donors in this room tonight. It's a blessing to be on stage right now, and I really appreciate everyone here today.

ABOUT

Wounded Warrior Project

Wounded Warrior Project® (WWP) began in 2003 as a small, grassroots effort providing simple care and comfort items to the hospital bedsides of the first wounded service members returning home from the conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan. As their post-service needs evolved, so have our programs and services. Today, along with your support of Courage Awards and Benefit Dinner, WWP improves the lives of millions of warriors and their families through and beyond their transitions to civilian life with mental and physical health services, peer connection, career counseling, and financial wellness.
