On March 4, WWP CEO Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Mike Linnington testi-

died before the Senate Committee on Veterans' Affairs, where he outlined the top three challenges women warriors faced during the COVID-19 pandemic:

1. Unequal access to care during the pandemic.

2. Challenges related to mental health care.

3. The need for increased access to childcare for veterans.

He also emphasized the importance of passing legislation that specifically addresses the health needs of women

veterans.

Additionally, we have sent seven position letters to Senate

Majority Leader Chuck Schumer, Senate Minority Leader

Mitch McConnell, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, and House

Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, among others, on issues

including:

• Improvements to mental health care

• Improvements to childcare services

• Increased access to mental health care

• The ABLE Age Adjustment Act

• The Elizabeth Dole Foundation

• Respite Relief (R&R) for Military and Veteran Caregivers

• The Veterans COMPACT Act

• The Ryan Kules and Paul Benne Specially Adaptive Housing

Improvement Act

The committee also passed the Commander John Scott

Hannon Veterans Mental Health Care Improvement Act last

Congress, which significantly reduces barriers to veterans receiving mental health care.

The top three challenges they faced during the pandemic were:

• The need for increased access to care.

• Challenges related to mental health care.

• The need for increased access to childcare for veterans.

By Jose Ramos, Vice President, Government and Community Relations, U.S. Navy Veteran

For many of us who have served or know loved ones who served, it is such a picturesque yet touching experience to visit the stainless steel statues commemorating the sacrifices of veterans who served during the Global War on Terror,

in Washington, D.C. and admire some of the inscriptions.

Advocacy@woundedwarriorproject.org

PASSED SENATE

PASSED HOUSE

www.veterans.senate.gov

COMMITTEE ON VETERANS' AFFAIRS

On March 4, WWP CEO Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Mike Linnington testi-died before the Senate Committee on Veterans' Affairs, where he outlined the top three challenges women warriors faced
during the COVID-19 pandemic:

1. Unequal access to care during the pandemic.

2. Challenges related to mental health care.

3. The need for increased access to childcare for veterans.

He also emphasized the importance of passing legislation

that specifically addresses the health needs of women

veterans.

Additionally, we have sent seven position letters to Senate

Majority Leader Chuck Schumer, Senate Minority Leader

Mitch McConnell, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, and House

Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, among others, on issues

including:

• Improvements to mental health care

• Improvements to childcare services

• Increased access to mental health care

• The ABLE Age Adjustment Act

• The Elizabeth Dole Foundation

• Respite Relief (R&R) for Military and Veteran Caregivers

• The Veterans COMPACT Act

• The Ryan Kules and Paul Benne Specially Adaptive Housing

Improvement Act

The committee also passed the Commander John Scott

Hannon Veterans Mental Health Care Improvement Act last

Congress, which significantly reduces barriers to

veterans receiving mental health care.

The top three challenges they faced during

the pandemic were:

• The need for increased access to care.

• Challenges related to mental health care.

• The need for increased access to childcare for veterans.

By Jose Ramos, Vice President, Government and Community Relations, U.S. Navy Veteran

For many of us who have served or know loved ones who served, it is such a picturesque yet

touching experience to visit the

stainless steel statues commemorating the sacrifices of

veterans who served during the Global War on Terror,

in Washington, D.C. and admire some

of the inscriptions.

Advocacy@woundedwarriorproject.org

PASSED SENATE

PASSED HOUSE

www.veterans.senate.gov

COMMITTEE ON VETERANS' AFFAIRS

On March 4, WWP CEO Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Mike Linnington testi-died before the Senate Committee on Veterans' Affairs, where he outlined the top three challenges women warriors faced
during the COVID-19 pandemic:

1. Unequal access to care during the pandemic.

2. Challenges related to mental health care.

3. The need for increased access to childcare for veterans.

He also emphasized the importance of passing legislation

that specifically addresses the health needs of women

veterans.

Additionally, we have sent seven position letters to Senate

Majority Leader Chuck Schumer, Senate Minority Leader

Mitch McConnell, House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, and House

Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, among others, on issues

including:

• Improvements to mental health care

• Improvements to childcare services

• Increased access to mental health care

• The ABLE Age Adjustment Act

• The Elizabeth Dole Foundation

• Respite Relief (R&R) for Military and Veteran Caregivers

• The Veterans COMPACT Act

• The Ryan Kules and Paul Benne Specially Adaptive Housing

Improvement Act

The committee also passed the Commander John Scott

Hannon Veterans Mental Health Care Improvement Act last

Congress, which significantly reduces barriers to

veterans receiving mental health care.

The top three challenges they faced during

the pandemic were:

• The need for increased access to care.

• Challenges related to mental health care.

• The need for increased access to childcare for veterans.

By Jose Ramos, Vice President, Government and Community Relations, U.S. Navy Veteran

For many of us who have served or know loved ones who served, it is such a picturesque yet

touching experience to visit the

stainless steel statues commemorating the sacrifices of

veterans who served during the Global War on Terror,

in Washington, D.C. and admire some of the inscriptions.